

Contents

Places of Knowledge in Democratic Athens

Marco Virgilio GARCÍA QUINTELA, Étienne HELMER, Arnaud MACÉ, Noémie VILLACÈQUE, Foreword	11-29
Christian JACOB, Between Ancient Studies and Anthropology of Knowledge: What Is the Place of Knowledge?	31-44

Part I Places of civic knowledge

Julián GALLEGO, Debates in the Phyx: Political Decision-Making as Collective Knowledge in Classical Athens.	47-66
ALEX GOTTESMAN, Ostracism as a lieu de savoir	67-87
Jean-Noël ALLARD, Athenian Theatre as a Means of Learning Citizenship.	89-102
Nicolas SIRON, Are Athenian Courts a Place of Knowledge? The Light and Shade of Forensic Speeches in Classical Athens.	103-124
Laura SANCHO ROCHER, Army, Assembly and polis : When Assemblies Meet Outside Their Urban Setting.	125-146

Part II Knowledges from shop to workshop

María Cecilia D'ERCOLE, Knowing How to Sell. Sales Practices in Classical Greece: Between Visibility, Aesthetics and Performance	149-166
Louise FAUCHIER, Merchant Spaces in Classical Athens. Places for Mobilising and Acquiring Political Knowledge.	167-190
Hélène CASTELLI, Between iatreion and the Patient's Home. Spatializing Medical Practice in Classical Athens.	191-215
Virginie MATHÉ, Building a Building, Building Skills: The Building Site as a Place of Accounting and Administrative Knowledge (Delphi, 4th Century BC).	217-236

Partie III From knowledge at home to knowledge about home

María Vanesa MARIÑO-CALVO, The Domestic Space of Textile Activity: The Question of γυναικείον	239-251
Irene VALDERRÁBANO GONZÁLEZ, Nurses and Pedagogues: Household Knowledge in Democratic Athens.	253-273

Étienne HELMER, Xenophon and oikonomia, or Home as a Community of Knowledge 275-289

Partie IV
Rituals as places of knowledge

Francisco Javier GONZÁLEZ GARCÍA, The Symbolic Construction of a Political Place: The Prytaneum 293-317

Pauline SCHMITT PANTEL, Banquets as Places of Knowledge 319-341

Miriam VALDÉS GUÍA, Women’s Knowledge in the Sacred Spaces of Athens: Transmission and Generation of the Community’s Cultural Memory. 343-362

Alaya PALAMIDIS, The Transmission of Religious Knowledge in Athenian Sanctuaries in the Classical Period. 363-389

Partie V
Philosophy is looking for its place

Mercedes DÍAZ DE CERIO, Plato’s “Other” Place of Knowledge. 393-413

Arnaud MACÉ, The Places of the Man Who Knew Everything. Hippias and Plato’s Comparative Topology of Knowledge. 415-431

Nerea TERCEIRO SANMARTÍN, Marco V. GARCÍA QUINTELA, Plato’s Phaedrus and the Academy 433-457

Lora MARIAT, Dwelling in the Sky and the Clouds: Place and “Non-Place” of Philosophical Knowledge in Aristophanes and Plato 459-476

Abstracts. 477-497