

Contents

Ipse Dixit* – Historiography of Ancient Mediterranean Sciences. Discourses and Practices: Case Studies

Abbreviations	9-13
Éric PERRIN-SAMINADAYAR, Preface	15-16
Louis DAUTAIS, Éric GRAU, Sébastien MARCHAND, Foreword.	17-22

Part I – Figures in the Science of Antiquity to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries

Marianne ALTIT-MORVILLEZ, Marie-Laure LE BRAZIDEC, Émile Espérandieu (1857-1939) and Adrien Blanchet (1866-1957): Experimenting with Corpuses on Roman Gaul.	25-54
Leandro COSTE, Victor Bérard (1864-1931) and Boeotia: What Future for the “Law of Isthmuses”?	55-83
Louis DAUTAIS, Henry R. H. Hall (1873-1930), Proto-Historian of the Egypto-Aegean Studies	85-116
Éric GRAU, Nina G. Garsoïan (1923-2022) and the Sources of Early Christian Armenia.	117-139
Lyubomir MALINOV, Henri Pirenne (1862-1935) and Late Antiquity in the Mediterranean. Definition(s) and Perspectives in Harbour Archaeology.	141-165

Part II – Disciplines, Concepts, Subjects of Study

Raphaëlle BERTEROTTIÈRE, “Judaism and Hellenism”: The Life and Death of a Historiographical Framework	169-193
Jean CHAUSSERIE-LAPRÉE, At the Origin of Marseille, the Celtic oppidum of Saint-Blaise. The Story and Detours of a Discovery	195-234
Marie-Pierre JÉZÉGOU, Simon MORAMARCO, A Historiography of Underwater Archaeology and the Contribution of Honor Frost	235-259
Edson POIATI FILHO, When the Egyptologist Meets the Linguist: Notes on the Work of François Daumas and Lucien Tesnière.	261-275
Corinne SANCHEZ, Ancient Ports in the Gulf of Lion: A History of Coastal Perception.	277-298
Abstracts.	299-308